Spoke His Piece

A dear little boy whose home n New Jersey, but whose identity shall not be further disclosed, at an occasion when visitors were annonneed, took part in exercises in their honor. The exercises comprised recitations by the brighter children and among them this dear little boy was called on. He recited in perfectly good faith the following which he had learned or caught from an indulgent nurse with semi poetical instinct;

When the youngster told this to his entirely surprised and some what shocked parents they asked

What did the teacher say?" He replied: "She said nothing. She just turned around and looked out of the window, but the scholars and visitors wanted me to say i
